Poultry Health Supplements

Animal Wellbeing's Poultry Elixir is a complex all-in-one solution containing all the essential nutritional needs a bird requires to thrive and unique immune system boosters that help prevent sickness, disease and parasites. Essential amino acids (which cannot be synthesised rapidly enough to meet metabolic requirements) and vitamins are vital for many biological processes. Poultry feeds can lack the necessary nutrients that are crucial for overall health. Nutritional deficiencies can cause many problems, including decreased egg production and weak shells, loss of appetite leading to weight loss, and becoming more prone to parasites and diseases.

B.PE250	AW Poultry Elixir 250ml
B.PE500	AW Poultry Elixir 500ml

Animal Wellbeing's Poultry Minerals contain a concentrated, balanced blend of mineral metals essential for many biological processes. These minerals are required for optimum health. Minerals are required in poultry as an activator of hormones and enzymes for the formation and replacement of the skeleton and eggshells. Poultry needs both macro minerals and trace minerals in their diet and the use of minerals has shown to increase poultry reproduction, reduce oxidative stress, and improve immunity to infections or toxins.
